

FH38 | WINDSOR CHAIR

FRITS HENNINGSEN

CARL HANSEN & SØN

DESCRIPTION

Frits Henningsen's comfortable Windsor Chair FH38 is as topical today as when its archetype came into being some 300 years ago in Buckinghamshire, England. With a sculptural back and a base of straight, oblique wooden legs, the Windsor Chair is an elegant piece of carpentry that belongs in both modern and classic décor.

DESIGNER

Henningsen was inspired by early style periods such as the French Empire, Rococo and 17th-century English furniture and reinterpreted them with a modern Scandinavian touch without superfluous decorative details, but with a focus on functionality, good craftsmanship and a single expression.
